Auto Hits Rear Of Patrol Car

A pedestrian was treated at Memorial Hospital and released Monday night and an automobile driver was hospitalized Tuesday morning and released as the result of two accidents on the CCC Highway about two miles west of Washington C. H.

Two cars, one of them a state Highway Patrol car, were badly damaged in the Tuesday morning crash.

The pedestrian was Harley Mitchell, 58, Route 3, Sabina. The State Highway Patrol reported that he was hit while walking west near the middle of the highway by an eastbound car driven by Herman Eugene Rodgers, 26, of Route 3, Washington C. H., about 6:55 p. m. Monday.

Mitchell was treated for lacerations of his left hand.

The Highway Patrol station at Wilmington said Mitchell probably would be charged with walking on the highway. Rodgers was exonerated.

The accident occurred near the intersection of the Jamison Rd. and CCC Highway.

MRS. CLARA BELLE CROUSE, 58, of 160 Howard St., Sabina, was treated for lacerations of the leg and chin and released about noon.

The Highway Patrol station reported that she had crashed into the rear of a patrol car driven by Patrolman Dwight Holloway at 7:50 a. m. Tuesday to investigate what he thought was an accident in front of the Herfordshire Motel. Both cars were headed east.

Patrolman Holloway said he had slowed down preparatory to making a left turn in front of the motel, but straightened up and started ahead when he was convinced the car behind would be unable to stop. He said he had turned on his stop and turn signals.

The report also showed that a car driven by Glen McCoy, 816 Millwood Ave., approaching from the east had slowed down when he saw

Airline Aide Uses Big Ship As Weapon for His Suicide

NEW YORK — Defeated in love, a young airline mechanic's helper penned a suicide letter declaring "I am really nuts." Eight hours later he crashed to his death Saturday night in a $100,000 airplane.

"They'll never be able to stop me once I get on the runway," wrote 20-year-old Allan Adler of Brooklyn.

The two-page semiliterate letter outlined in detail Adler's suicide plans. It was written Saturday morning but never mailed to its intended receiver, Adler's chum in the Air Force.

A Civil Aeronautics Board official, investigating the crash at Idlewild Airport, found it Monday in Adler's locker in the hangar of Pan American World Airways, Adler's employer for 14 months.

Adler told his friend, 17-year-old Daniel O'Leary of Brooklyn, who is stationed at the Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.:

"... If I were you I wouldn't feel too bad about my dying because I don't & anyway you wouldn't want to go with a crazy guy — and I am really nuts."

Should the court order the formation of a Citizens Committee and the building program be held up, President Robert Terhune said the board would not be obligated for the planning.

Although several board members were considered for the delegates to the convention to form the Citizens Committee as well as others for (not board members) representatives of the committee itself, if it is formed, none was selected. It was brought out during the discussion that the board felt it should be prepared to proceed, no matter which way the court ruled.

Robert J. Quinn, fire commissioner, estimated damage at $5 million.

The flames from the elevator, fanned at times by strong winds, were visible nearly into the Loop, some 14 miles north.

WASHINGTON — H. Meade Alcorn Jr. of Connecticut today was unanimously elected Republican national chairman. President Eisenhower had named him as his choice.

Alcorn was chosen by the committee on motion of L. J. Jordon Morhouse, New York state chairman.

Harry Darby of Kansas, chairman of a subcommittee which conferred with Eisenhower at the White House, had just reported that Eisenhower "would like it very much" if Alcorn was elected to succeed retiring Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

Alcorn, 49, has been a member of the committee about four years. He was chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower organization in Connecticut in 1952.

Hall has presented his resignation to the committee effective Feb. 1.

Alcorn, his state's national committeeman, directed arrangements for last year's national convention.

Others mentioned as possible choices included former Sen. Harry Darby of Kansas; Ray C. Bliss, Ohio state chairman; L. Jordon Morhouse, New York state chairman; former Gov. 'Mad Bomber' Admits Crimes

WATERBURY, Conn. — A clean-cut looking man in a blue suit told calmly today of 25 years of suffering and of hatred boiling up inside him. Then he said he is New York's "mad bomber."

George Metesky is his name. He's 53 and gray-haired. He said he made a vow a long time ago to go on planting bombs in New York until he either got caught or died.

"This is the man," said New York Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm. "We know by his admissions. Secondly, we know him by his handwriting."

Charged with being a fugitive, Metesky waived extradition in a special city court session. New York police said he would be held here, under $100,000 bond, until warrants arrive from New York.

Arm said Metesky signed a written statement saying he is the man who, because he felt he got a raw deal from the company he used to work for, planted at least 32 bombs in public places in New York City since 1941.

SEVERAL OF the bombs exploded. The toll: 15 persons injured, none seriously.

Arm quoted him as saying he never meant to kill anyone. The commissioner added that Metesky said he planted bombs in New York "whenever he felt like it."

In his gold-rimmed eyeglasses, Metesky could well have passed for a school teacher as he went over each bombing one by one in Waterbury's police headquarters in all night questioning.

Arm said Metesky held a year-long grudge against the Consolidated Edison Co. of New York.

Metesky said he contracted pulmonary tuberculosis after he was gassed while working at the firm's Hell Gate plant in New York in 1931. He claimed the company refused to take care of him and that was the reason he planted the homemade bombs, Arm said.

Among the first bombs to explode were some on Consolidated Edison property. The bombings date back to 1940, police said. Metesky was placed on company compensation roles in 1941.

Police have said letters accompanied many of the bombs, mostly the pipe variety with a cheap watch for the timing mechanism. The letters complained the "Mad Bomber" never was compensated for his crippling injuries.

They were signed "F. P."

Arm quoted Metesky as saying "F. P." stood for "fair play."

Arm said Metesky told him he never purchased any of his bomb materials in Waterbury. For each bomb, Arm said, Metesky went to a different store, some in New York others in Bridgeport and towns along the way.

He said Metesky purchased bullets and took the powder from them to get the explosives for his missiles.

Many of his unexploded bombs were wrapped in socks.

Police Powers For Highway Patrol Asked

COLUMBUS — The Ohio Highway Patrol, nearing its quarter-century mark, may be on its way to becoming the "Ohio State Police."

The Ohio Senate received a bill Monday night to confer full police powers on the patrol. It was offered by Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin).

His proposal followed by only a week an admission by Gov. C. William O'Neill that he has been studying the plight the patrol faces with only limited powers.

The Legislative Service Commission, a research arm of the Legislature, recently authorized a study of a proposal to give the patrol police powers in cases of emergencies declared by the governor.

The Shaw proposal would eliminate from the present law a prohibition against patrol interference in labor disputes.

THE STATE patrol, under present law, is limited to the enforcement of laws covering motor vehicles and highways.

Wife Goes On Rock 'n' Roll 'Jag,' Is Shot

CINCINNATI — An ironworker who told police his wife craved "that rock 'n' roll type of music" and often went out alone, surrendered to police Monday night after she was shot and critically wounded.

Mrs. Jean Smith, 26, mother of two children, fought for her life at General Hospital where aides said she may not live.

Officers said her husband, Edwin Frederick Smith, 38, admitted he burst into his mother-in-law's home and shot his wife because "she got the Elvis Presley rock 'n' roll jag."

No charge has been filed.

Investigators quoted Smith saying his wife often came home late and "sometimes there wouldn't be anybody to take care of the kids while I was working."

Police said Smith told them he asked several agencies here Monday to help him "straighten her out," but when that failed, he bought a shotgun.

He said his wife, whom he called "Two-Beer Jeanie," would go on a Presley "jag" and "was looking for a new kind of love." He suspected her of having affairs with other men.

He said "she sometimes would leave at 5:30 in the morning, wouldn't come home until real late." But he said she "always went to her mamma when there was any trouble."

Telephone Firm Is Accused Of Hiring Roughhouse Crew

PORTSMOUTH — Two men testified before the National Labor Relations Board that they were ordered by officials of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. to get four union leaders "out of the picture." It was denied by the company today.

Company charges of unfair labor practices against the union are the subject of the hearing, underway here for several days. The Communications Workers of America union has been on strike against the company since last July 15.

The witnesses, James R. Tindal and William Kerr of New Castle, Pa., testified they were hired by the company last Sept. 1 to investigate cable cuttings and other vandalism.

Tindal testified that an Ohio Consolidated official instructed Tindal and four others hired by the company "to get any one of four union leaders out of the way by any means we saw fit."

"We might run them down in an automobile or run them off the road," Tindal testified.

He told the board a company official expressed belief that if any one of four top union officials were removed from the picture "the strike would disintegrate immediately."

Tindal and Kerr further testified they were unable to find who was responsible for vandalism.

After the hearing, the company issued this statement:

"The trumped-up charges obviously were manufactured and will delude no one.

"They are so absurd as to insult the intelligence of any thinking person. The company will not submit to this sort of libelous attack and will promptly take appropriate action."

Tindal also testified that he and four other men were dismissed after working four days.

He testified a company official said "we were of no further use to him because our work was confined to surveillance and investigation and that what he wanted done was to get any one or all of these men out of the way."

Boy 'Hero,' 3 Pals Admit Church Fire

CINCINNATI — A 13-year-old boy, who turned in the alarm, and three youthful companions have admitted starting a fire Sunday night at the Asbury Third Methodist Church here which caused an estimated $50,000 damage.

Fire Capt. James Hassett said the four boys have been turned over to juvenile authorities. Two of the lads are 12 years old and the fourth is 14.

Although the boy who turned in the alarm at first was praised by authorities, firemen said they became suspicious of his story.

2 Boys Drowned

CINCINNATI — Dale Cable, 6, and his brother, Wayne, 4, fell through soft ice and drowned Monday in an abandoned gravel pit near their home here.

Telephone Firm Is Accused Of Hiring Roughhouse Crew

PORTSMOUTH — Two men testified before the National Labor Relations Board that they were ordered by officials of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. to get four union leaders "out of the picture." It was denied by the company today.

Company charges of unfair labor practices against the union are the subject of the hearing, underway here for several days. The Communications Workers of America union has been on strike against the company since last July 15.

The witnesses, James R. Tindal and William Kerr of New Castle, Pa., testified they were hired by the company last Sept. 1 to investigate cable cuttings and other vandalism.

Tindal testified that an Ohio Consolidated official instructed Tindal and four others hired by the company "to get any one of four union leaders out of the way by any means we saw fit."

"We might run them down in an automobile or run them off the road," Tindal testified.

He told the board a company official expressed belief that if any one of four top union officials were removed from the picture "the strike would disintegrate immediately."

Airline Aide Uses Big Ship As Weapon for His Suicide

NEW YORK — Defeated in love, a young airline mechanic's helper penned a suicide letter declaring "I am really nuts." Eight hours later he crashed to his death Saturday night in a $100,000 airplane.

"They'll never be able to stop me once I get on the runway," wrote 20-year-old Allan Adler of Brooklyn.

The two-page semiliterate letter outlined in detail Adler's suicide plans. It was written Saturday morning but never mailed to its intended receiver, Adler's chum in the Air Force.

A Civil Aeronautics Board official, investigating the crash at Idlewild Airport, found it Monday in Adler's locker in the hangar of Pan American World Airways, Adler's employer for 14 months.

Adler told his friend, 17-year-old Daniel O'Leary of Brooklyn, who is stationed at the Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.:

"... If I were you I wouldn't feel too bad about my dying because I don't & anyway you wouldn't want to go with a crazy guy — and I am really nuts. ... Right now my hand is shaking like a leaf and I ain't scared because I always wanted to fly & tonight I'll get my chance. I'll be on my own at the controls just like I've been alone always."

Adler told his friend that he had "brock off" with a girl friend named Lynn but planned to see her just once more because you see tonight when I go to work I won't be coming back home anymore — you know what I mean by that. ... I've thunk this thing out mighty carefully and logically. ...

That night, Adler stole out behind the hangar where he worked and jumped into a twin-engine DC3 owned by his employer and used for training purposes.

He started down the runway, received clearance from the tower and took off. The plane climbed to an altitude of 200 feet before it crashed to a concrete runway of Idlewild. The plane was demolished and Adler was dead.

Before young Adler's letter was found, his parents said they thought their son's childhood desire to be an airline pilot prompted the unauthorized flight. They were surprised, they said, that he took his life because of the girl named Lynn, a person they never knew.

Beck, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, said Monday that he had not had any free time for the last five months and added that "my plans were made long in advance."

At the conclusion of a subcommittee hearing in Washington last week, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said Beck had turned down an "invitation" to testify on grounds of health. The subcommittee is involved in an argument with the teamsters over congressional authority to study alleged labor racketeering.

Family Quarrel Ends in Death

DAYTON — A family quarrel today was blamed for the fatal shooting of Henry Barwick, 54, of Dayton. He was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital shortly after midnight.

Police said they were holding his wife, Mrs. Geraldine Barwick, 37, for investigation of homicide. Her sister, Miss Delores Jackson, 22, was held as a witness.

Mrs. Barwick told police that she and her husband quarrelled over another woman. Barwick armed himself with a butcher knife. Mrs. Barwick got a revolver.

Intending to frighten her husband, she fired. The shot hit Barwick near the heart.

Beck Denies Senate Probe 'Rejected'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Labor Leader Dave Beck has denied that he rejected an "invitation" to appear before a Senate investigating subcommittee.

Beck, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, said Monday that he had not had any free time for the last five months and added that "my plans were made long in advance."

St. Andrew's Elects New Vestry Members

The parish of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church elected three new members of its vestry Monday night. They are Mrs. Roger Hoffman, Buckner Burbage, and Mac Dews Jr., all for three-year terms.

Felix Halliday was reelected senior warden, and Probate Judge Robert Brubaker was chosen junior warden for one year.

The archdeacon of the diocese, the Venerable David R. Thornberry of Cincinnati, presided over the annual parish meeting, which followed a potluck supper. More than 60 members of the parish attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lisk and Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, were named delegates to the diocesan convention at Dayton in May, with Judge and Mrs. Brubaker as alternates.

No announcement was made as to progress in obtaining a pastor for the church to replace the Rev. Sanford Lindsay who resigned more than a year ago.

Other members of the vestry, elected previously, are Mrs. Mary Willis, Glenn Tatman, Willard Story, Lisk, Earl Miller, and Otis Core.

Ohio Plagued By Troubles In Big Parade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because it did not look very peaceful to the Atomic Energy Commission, a device to shoot off mock atomic bomb explosions was removed from Ohio's float in the inaugural parade Monday.

Dallas Meade, the contractor who built the float, said the device sent atomic mushroom cloud-like puffs of smoke into the air every two minutes.

He said the commission did not feel the explosions could fit in with the theme of the Ohio float: "Peacetime uses of atomic energy."

"Of course we consented right away not to use it," Meade said. "Actually, it was perfectly safe. We had already cleared it with the fire marshal."

Things did not come off quite as planned for Ohio's governor in the parade, either.

Gov. C. William O'Neill was so intent on waving to the newsreel and television cameras on the other side of the street that his car was clear past the President before he remembered to turn and doff his hat to Eisenhower.

Judge Dismisses Pike Indictment

WAVERLY (AP) — Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds has dismissed a local perjury indictment against a Lancaster real estate dealer.

The dealer, Clifford C. Robinson, was indicted last March by the Pike County grand jury in connection with an investigation of controversy over selection of a site for a residential subdivision near the Pike County atomic energy plant. The jury charged that Robinson lied on two counts in testimony before the jury.

Judge Reynolds, who heard the case on assignment, ruled that the jury had overstepped its authority.

Nurses' Prank Proves Fatal To Student

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A tragic "prank" which led to the fatal burning of one student nurse and serious injury to another was blamed on two registered nurses Monday night.

Fire Chief Earl McDaniel said Margaret R. Donovan, 24, and Mary Frances Hutchinson, 26, both of Lexington, admitted in signed statements they doused two student nurses with half a pint of ether.

One of the nurses was smoking a cigarette. A fire resulted. Kathleen Oehler, 19, of Frankfort, died Sunday night and the other student, 23-year-old Charlotte Smith of Danville, is still on the serious list at St. Joseph's Hospital, where the incident occurred last week.

McDaniel said officials will confer today on the possibility of filing charges against the two.

McDaniel said Miss Donovan and Miss Hutchinson told him ether-throwing was a "nurses' prank" which had been done by others before "to make them jump." Ether feels extremely cold when in contact with the skin.

The fire chief said Miss Hutchinson admitted pouring ether in Miss Oehler's lap and Miss Donovan poured it on Miss Smith without realizing she was smoking a cigarette.

He quoted the nurses as saying Miss Smith "almost instantly went up in flames." The fire spread quickly to Miss Oehler.

Negotiations In Telephone Tiff Stalled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Negotiations in the southern Ohio telephone strike remained deadlocked after a seven-hour bargaining session Monday night, a federal mediator reported.

N. W. Fillo said representatives of Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co., and the Communications Workers of America (CWA) made "no progress" toward settlement of the six-month-old strike.

Negotiations resume at the Seneca Hotel here at 2 p. m. Monday, Jan. 28.

The union went on strike when a one-year contract expired July 15. Retention of a union shop clause and 15 other issues are in dispute.

While negotiations were going on here, the Scioto County sheriff's office reported another outbreak of cable-slashing in Portsmouth.

Deputies said slashed cables cut off radio systems in the city's cabs, and in the sheriff's radio cruisers. The cuttings also knocked out phone service at Western Union and at radio station WXNT, deputies said.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel, so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H and STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Sarah Core Wins Third Place For Essay on Handicapped

Sarah Core, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis B. Core, 825 Lincoln Dr., is among the prize-winners in the Highland - Fayette district competition of the National Employ the Physically Handicapped Essay Contest.

The announcement came Tuesday from Mrs. Anne L. Betts, district chairman of the contest, who said Sarah placed third. First prize went to Evelyn Peyton, Wilmington, and second award to Suzanne E. Rannels, Lees Creek.

Thomas Swaim, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Swaim, 532 N. North St., won honorable mention from the judges for his essay.

Sarah, a senior at Washington C. H. High School, was struck by polio last year and spent some time in Children's Hospital, Columbus. Now recovering from the effects of the crippling disease, she still goes to Columbus for treatments twice a week, and swims the year around as additional therapy.

This, she says, is how she came to write her essay on jobs for the physically handicapped, entitled "It's Our Move".

SARAH has a straight "A" average at school, and is president of her senior class, a member of the National Honor Society, staff member of the school Sunburst, and participant in many other extra-curricular activities. She plans to go on to a liberal arts college, though she hasn't yet decided which one, to major in languages, political science, or a kindred field.

Tom Swaim became interested in problems of the physically handicapped when he worked last summer with crippled children at Camp Campbell Gard, near Hamilton. A junior at WHS, he is a regular on the varsity basketball team and participates in various other activities. His college plans are indefinite.

Sarah will receive an award of $10, and Tom gets a certificate of honorable mention. Presentation will be made this week by school officials. First - place award is $25, and second prize is $15.

IN ADDITION, the first award winner in this district contest, Evelyn Peyton, has her essay entered in the statewide competition, and, if she wins there, in the national finals.

Essays for the district judging were submitted by 11th and 12th grade students in schools throughout Fayette and Highland counties.

Judges were the Rev. Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church; Charles W. Hire, attorney; Walter F. Rettig, executive vice president and secretary of the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn.; B. M. Marlin, office manager of the Armco Drainage and Metal Products, Inc.; and Paul F. Rodenfels, publisher of the Record - Herald.

Coffee-Break Schedule Urged

COLUMBUS (AP) — From a management standpoint, the best coffee-breaks are those on a fixed schedule, a survey by the Ohio Manufacturers Assn. shows.

Of the employees who sip coffee at fixed times, only between 1 and 6 per cent sip too long. But there are no fixed schedules, 27 to 36 per cent of the employees abuse the privilege of drinking coffee on company time, the survey said.

The association surveyed nearly 700 Ohio manufacturing concerns to get its findings.

At least 89 per cent of the companies had coffee-breaks, most of them two a day.

They all returned to the White House at 12:42 a. m.

The President also told friends Monday's inaugural parade was "the best parade I've ever seen." He described it as "less of the strolling kind of thing."

Four years ago, at his first inauguration, the big procession kept him in the reviewing stand until well after darkness fell.

Monday, a shorter army of marchers moved smartly. Standing near the presidential reviewing stand were two men who played vital roles in Eisenhower's life recently.

One was Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist who supervised treatment when Eisenhower was stricken in 1955. The other was Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton who operated on him after an attack of ileitis nine months later.

White reported that the President "apparently is in excellent health" now.

Negotiations In Telephone Tiff Stalled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Negotiations in the southern Ohio telephone strike remained deadlocked after a seven-hour bargaining session Monday night, a federal mediator reported.

N. W. Fillo said representatives of Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co., and the Communications Workers of America (CWA) made "no progress" toward settlement of the six-month-old strike.

Negotiations resume at the Seneca Hotel here at 2 p. m. Monday, Jan. 28.

The union went on strike when a one-year contract expired July 15. Retention of a union shop clause and 15 other issues are in dispute.

While negotiations were going on here, the Scioto County sheriff's office reported another outbreak of cable-slashings in Portsmouth.

Deputies said slashed cables cut off radio systems in the city's cabs, and in the sheriff's radio cruisers. The cuttings also knocked out phone service at Western Union and at radio station WXT, deputies said.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrift" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Sarah Core Wins Third Place For Essay on Handicapped

Sarah Core, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis B. Core, 825 Lincoln Dr., is among the prize-winners in the Highland - Fayette district competition of the National Employ the Physically Handicapped Essay Contest.

The announcement came Tuesday from Mrs. Anne L. Betts, district chairman of the contest, who said Sarah placed third. First prize went to Evelyn Peyton, Wilmington, and second award to Suzanne E. Rannels, Lees Creek.

Thomas Swaim, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Swaim, 532 N. North St., won honorable mention from the judges for his essay.

Sarah, a senior at Washington C. H. High School, was struck by polio last year and spent some time in Children's Hospital, Columbus. Now recovering from the effects of the crippling disease, she still goes to Columbus for treatments twice a week, and swims the year around as additional therapy.

This, she says, is how she came to write her essay on jobs for the physically handicapped, entitled "It's Our Move."

SARAH has a straight "A" average at school, and is president of her senior class, a member of the National Honor Society, staff member of the school Sunburst, and participant in many other extra-curricular activities. She plans to go on to a liberal arts college, though she hasn't yet decided which one, to major in languages, political science, or a kindred field.

Tom Swaim became interested in problems of the physically handicapped when he worked last summer with crippled children at Camp Campbell Gard, near Hamilton. A junior at WHS, he is a regular on the varsity basketball team and participates in various other activities. His college plans are indefinite.

Sarah will receive an award of $10, and Tom gets a certificate of honorable mention. Presentation will be made this week by school officials. First - place award is $25, and second prize is $15.

IN ADDITION, the first award winner in this district contest, Evelyn Peyton, has her essay entered in the statewide competition, and, if she wins there, in the national finals.

Essays for the district judging were submitted by 11th and 12th grade students in schools throughout Fayette and Highland counties.

Judges were the Rev. Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church; Charles W. Hire, attorney; Walter F. Rettig, executive vice president and secretary of the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn.; B. M. Marlin, office manager of the Armo Drainage and Metal Products, Inc.; and Paul F. Rodenfels, publisher of the Record-Herald.

Coffee-Break Schedule Urged

COLUMBUS (AP)—From a management standpoint, the best coffee-breaks are those on a fixed schedule, a survey by the Ohio Manufacturers Assn. shows.

Of the employees who sip coffee at fixed times, only between 1 and 6 per cent sip too long. But there are no fixed schedules, 27 to 36 per cent of the employees abuse the privilege of drinking coffee on company time, the survey said.

The association surveyed nearly 700 Ohio manufacturing concerns to get its findings.

At least 89 per cent of the companies had coffee-breaks, most of them two a day.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Instead of asking your help in solving my problems, I simply want to tell you why I have no problems, no troubles, in the fields
here you counsel.

Some years ago I placed in an envelope, together with a Christmas check (it should have been for at least a billion!), the following testimonial to my wife:

All that it says is equally true
today; and while I expect few (who don't know the lady) to believe that every statement is the literal truth, yet I pledge you my word it is here I what I wrote:

"To my darling wife, who in all our 25 years of marriage has never once said an unkind, cross or disagreeable word; or done any unkind thing to me or anyone else.

"Who has never once found fault with my many shortcomings; or reminded me of my failures; and who has never once nagged me, jealously or otherwise, about anything whatsoever.

"Who is so utterly honest, fair and aboveboard that she is simply incapable of an unworthy act.

"Who is delightfully appreciative of any little thing I may do for her, and who never calls me to account when, as happens so frequently, I fail her in one way or another.

"Who never complains when she is tired or ill (in fact, usually succeeds in concealing it), but who is all sympathy and solicitude for me when I am not well.

"Who delights me continuously with her beauty, charm and femininity; and whom I have never once, in all these years, seen disheveled or untidy; and whose taste and ability as a homemaker are such that our home is a delight, not only to me but to all who see it.

"Who is loved by all who know her, from the highest to the lowest; who unfailing thoughtfulness of others is a constant miracle to me; and whose good sense about money matters has enabled us not only to live well, but also to accumulate a little something for the future.

"Who is, in summation, the most unbelievably perfect person imaginable, and yet is the best companion and most lovable spouse any man ever had."

P. W.

DEAR P. W.: It may be that every grateful, devoted husband of a good wife would write a similar litany in praise of his spouse, if he had your eloquence. Because doubtless that's how she looks to him—incomparable amongst women, and flawless.

However, from the angle of prudent concern for a healthy interchange of real helpfulness in marriage—adequate to foster the growth of each partner (and all members of their household)—it is to be hoped that it is more an exercise in poetic license, than a statement of total fact.

It is well for us to be accepted and loved as we are, of course;

It is a first necessity of a good relationship. And such appears to have been your experience in marriage. But it is also well for us to be challenged and required to give a good account of ourselves in our most cherished associations—for the sake of growth; also since these relationships shape our social character.

It would be a poor compliment to the lover's nature—indeed, tacit derogation of his love capacity—
if his partner were never permitted the human privilege of being plainly less than perfect; ideal and lovely, in their life together;
and never affectionately borne, in such frankly human frailties as ill humor, ill health and untidiness, on occasion.

Also, it would signify something apart from love, in the wife's heart—an element of anxiety, I should think—if she operated always on the romantic heights of idyllic demeanor, in the married state.

People simply aren't perfect;
and rationally we don't expect them to be; nor ourselves either.
Rather the hallmark of goodness,
in man and wife, is to clearly recognize yet loyally cope with "human nature" as the common problem of married life.

'Pair of Lions' Seen in California

ROLLING HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A veteran hunter and trapper says he is convinced "there's a pair of lions" in the Palos Verdes hills, just south of Los Angeles.

David R. Benton's hunt said that fresh tracks discovered Saturday indicated that a male and female mountain lion are prowling
the Palos Verdes Peninsula.

Last week workers and residents reported seeing large animals and one man, an experienced hunter, identified a beast he had sighted as a five-foot-long mountain lion.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The trial of fate between mid-March and East-

Skilled Opportunism Not The Objective

The great hunt for educated talent in industry and other fields is the substance of a subject for an interesting article in a nationally known magazine by John W. Gardner, president of the Carnegie Corporation.

It deals with a situation which exists in every part of our country. Even small rural counties like Fayette feel the importance of this subject on many occasions. It is a story of a shortage and deals with a problem of importance which does not offer any easy solution.

Nowadays college graduates with technical degrees command beginning salaries that would have seemed inconceivable a comparatively short time ago. Mr. Gardner quotes an industrial executive as saying, "We don't screen them, they screen us." Last year one big company actually had recruiting teams on 200 campuses. The government, as well as business and industry, is in active competition for educated talent of many kinds.

"But present demand for talent," writes Mr. Gardner, "is not, as some people insist, a mere by-product of prosperity. It is the nature of our society that has churned up the wave of demand—the rapid rate of our technical innovation and the social complexities that have come in its wake." He recalls that as recently as 50 years ago the only fields that required advanced training were medicine, law, the ministry and education. All has changed since then. Between 1870 and 1950 the number of professional workers grew three and a half times faster than the population. The most spectacular change has been in the demand for scientists and engineers. In 1870, they represented only three per cent of all professional men; now the figure is 20 per cent.

Obviously enough, our educational system has grown vastly—even through demand outruns supply. Higher education is now available in more than 1,800 institutions. At the same time, only a relative few of the institutions (148 in 1950) offer programs leading to Ph. D. degrees. And of those, Mr. Gardner says, "...a surprisingly small fraction... carries the major burden of training our professional, scholarly, scientific and technical leaders."

As we all know, there has been a tremendous emphasis on specialization. That was inevitable, in a technological age. But this, as Mr. Gardner observes, poses a dilemma—"...a world of ever-ramifying specialties soon cries out for generalists." Consequently, "...the most forward-looking of our colleges and universities are making active efforts to ensure that every specialist will build this specialty on a base of general education. What the future is going to demand is specialists who are capable of functioning as generalists."

Mr. Gardner brings out one fact that will surprise many of us. Our total expenditures for higher education now amount to only eight-tenths of one per cent of our gross national product—the lowest figure since 1951, and far less, for example, than is spent on tobacco products or alcoholic beverages.

Finally, he deals at some length with the problems—economic and other—that must be solved if sufficient educated talent is to be produced. He emphasizes the need to keep standards high—"...excellence is the proper concern of colleges and universities." His last sentence reads: "Whether we shall have a steady flow into our leadership ranks of wise, liberally educated men and women with the creativity and the sense of values which the future demands—or whether we shall have a paralyzing flow of skilled opportunists, time servers, and educated fools—depends wholly upon the sense of values which guides our efforts."

Money Is No Idol to Him

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—"The reason many uneducated men make successes in business," said Murray Cohen, who never finished grammar school, "is that subconsciously they seek security in money."

"But I never idolized money." At 49, Cohen, who is as calm and restful as a bottle of benzene pills, really is a millionaire who probably doesn't idolize money. How can you idolize something you are making so fast you don't have time to count it?

There are a number of unusual things about Murray, who is a blue-eyed, sandy-haired philanthropist and businessman who was born poor on the Lower East Side and still wears the air of surety of one who broke his knuckles young, but still won. For example:

He went to work selling paper and twine at 14, and four years later was earning $40,000 a year selling laundry machinery.

He lives in a suite in the Waldorf Towers, and is the only tenant there who does his own laundry.

He is also a bachelor who washes 30 million diapers a year.

He is, as a matter of fact, president and board chairman of Consolidated Laundries, the world's largest firm in the field, and kingpin in the nation's $400 million a year linen supply and laundry industry.

In 1943 when he moved in and took over control of the company he was hailed as the youngest top executive of any firm on the New York Stock Exchange. "It was losing money, and going downhill," he said. "Its annual business was about $6 million and it hadn't paid a dividend in some 10 years. This year we'll do $22 million."

How did he do it? This is Cohen's explanation:

"I did it by molding the men I found there when I took over the firm. I didn't bring in men from the outside."

"We had about 2,000 employees then, and we have about 4,000 now, plus 800 trucks. All the managers of the 23 plants we have today were route delivery men or route supervisors when I came."

Cohen, who doesn't mind admitting he enjoys playing hard, also says he has kept the first promise he made to the men in his firm:

"I will work harder than any of you."

The results show somebody or something worked: Cohen now has 250,000 customers, a customer being the mother of a newborn baby, a hotel a whole chain of restaurants, a barber shop or a series of beauty parlors. "The rental of towels, napkins, tablecloths, and service uniforms is the big thing today," he said. "Dry cleaning and the handling of home laundry are minor compared to it."

"There are a lot of angles to this business. We own $10 million worth of linens, as we call cotton goods. We've got a new diaper now shaped like an hourglass instead of square... more efficient."

"You know how to deal with employees? First, make them have a real sense of belonging to your organization to give them emotional security. Then over-pay them; that gives them financial security. Nothing makes a man feel more secure than being over-paid."

Surprise! Elvis Is a Singer!

By George Sokolsky

I took my young daughter to a movie house to see the picture in which Elvis Presley sings and gyrates and acts quite the hero. I needed a member of the younger generation to translate the current vernacular into spoken English if words were used which an older like myself could not quite dig.

In front of me were four youngsters who were devoting themselves to "soul-kissing" which means that while they paid for their tickets, their business excluded Elvis altogether, except that he might have provided an obligato for their osculations.

All social phenomena need to be noted if we are to appreciate the age in which we live, and it can be truthfully said that young Elvis can sing well if you like ballads and hell-billy music which, after all, is of the people and can in time be worked into symphonic pieces as Dvorak did with Stephen Foster's songs and Aaron Copland did in his "Appalachian Spring".

Folk music should not be disdained even by long-hair musicologists who always know what everything should be like according to musical history but who cannot turn out a tune that folks might whistle as one does the Wedding March from "Lohengrin" which even the most unmusical know because it is related to what comes most naturally, namely, a marriage.

Whereas Elvis Presley sings ballads surprisingly well and whereas his Elizabethan drawl is piquant, his gyrations are unnecessary, ugly and stupid. He can outlast them as many a singer and actor has outlasted an easy affectation designed to attract attention. In some instances, the player has nothing but the affectation and is sooner or later removed from the scene by popular shifts of taste. If Presley had nothing but his gyrations, he would soon disappear because they are not even good clowning, and for an older generation it can be said that Eva Tanguay was more attractive and adept.

But as a singer the boy can succeed. As somebody else has said, the caller at a square dance does not stand still like the Rock of Gibraltar; he sort of dances with his legs and shoulders as he tells the folks to swing their partners. I didn't find Elvis's gyrations at all sexy, not like what used to go on in the old burlesque shows to which youngsters went before juvenile delinquency became so fashionable.

If this younger generation can get hot-up over what Presley does, they are indeed a milk-and-water crowd who need some steel put into their spines. I saw better half a century ago. He will undoubtedly drop this act when he stops being a shill for shoe salesmen and button manufacturers and falls into the hands of a competent director and coach who could turn him into another Bing Crosby which is going pretty far in the right direction, but the gyrations stand in the way of a successful career.

The young people of this generation act often and talk more often as if they had discovered sex. One need only remind them of Helen of Troy or the Queen of Sheba or of Yang Kuei-Fei to learn that what they think is so very current and modern existed always and that Eve knew more about it than they do, having had a long talk with the serpent on the subject. So, down Fido! and learn your manners.

Rudolph Valentino and Frank Sinatra built careers on fainting juveniles but neither of them ever knew the glories of the matinee idol of an earlier period who was worshipped for the curl of his hair and the majesty of his fur collar. Life is pretty much the same at one time as at another and human have not changed greatly even though every youngster talks about how times change.

"Pamela" and "Pride and Prejudice," etc., etc., tell the story about as it should be told today except the language is different, but none of us, of whatever age, in our times have reverted to the coarse language current among ladies and gentlemen at the court of Elizabeth I.

So, those who are excited about the gyrations of Elvis Presley, may subside. Let us nothing to get excited about and if the parents will bring up their children properly, they need not fear Elvis at all.

Getting To Sleep Problem for Some

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Have a tough time getting up this morning? Wouldn't you rather have stayed in bed a little longer? Well, I guess just about everyone feels like this once in a while.

Actually, though, eight hours' sleep usually is enough for the average person. There can be no steadfast rule. You might need more or you might need less.

If you go to bed early and arise early, you'll probably get along best with eight or even nine hours sleep. If you're a night owl you may get by with only six or seven. Some do with even less sleep.

Sleeping Period

Your efficiency is geared to your sleeping period. If you're in bed early and up early, you will be most efficient during the early part of the day. As evening approaches, you lose a good part of your efficiency.

For night owls, who sleep pretty late and just hate to get up, efficiency reaches its peak during the evening hours. Usually, it will be very low when you awake.

You men are apt to be in a daze while shaving and you'll probably stumble through your early chores. And you women might find getting breakfast a difficult task.

Whatever time you go to bed, the first three hours of slumber will benefit you most. That's when you sleep the soundest.

Slow Trend

After three hours, there is a slow trend toward waking and you're apt to toss and turn more.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT

Indiana's legislature will consider a bill which would establish a fine for observing Daylight Saving Time. It could be the first time in history that anyone was "docked" for being early.

Meat shortage looms in Rome

Getting to sleep, however, is the real problem for many of you. You'll toss and turn and spend a good deal of time trying to force yourself to sleep. However, there are several dos and don'ts to follow to help you into the land of nod.

Let's consider the don'ts.

Don't depend upon sleeping pills or potions. While they might be all right if prescribed by a doctor in case of an illness, they are only a crutch which you might come to depend upon. They might lead you into the drug habit, if you misuse them.

Don't exercise before you go to bed, if you sleep poorly. If you want to reduce or develop your body, wait until morning to perform your aerobics. Exercise, both physical and mental, tends to alert you rather than soothe you.

For that reason, don't try to solve any troublesome problems just before turning in. With a good night's sleep, you'll be able to tackle them much easier the next day.

Tomorrow I'll give you some helpful hints on how to get to sleep quickly and easily.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

In the days of log school houses in Fayette County, it was customary for the teacher to always have at least one sizeable hickory stick standing in one corner of the room, or at some other convenient spot, to maintain order.

In those days some of the unruly scholars received more correction in the school room, invariably with the aid of the stick, than they did at home, and were taught respect for their teacher, who sometimes applied the "gad" without too much reason.

Part of the pupils attending school were young men up to 20 years of age, and some teachers were not very agreeable, generally by reason of their strict enforcement of their numerous rules. These usually were "laid down" at the first session of school over which the teacher presided.

I do not know what the difficulty was between some of the older students and the teacher who taught in a log school house which stood on the east bank of a branch of Compton Creek, which flows through what is now the Fred See farm, fronting on the Old Springfield Rd. in Marion Township, a mile north of U. S. 22.

Lewis Popejoy, who resided on the Old Springfield Rd. about a mile north of the See (formerly the W. W. Hamilton) farm was one of the boys attending school, and with some of the others planned to pull a fast one on the teacher—which they did.

My informant does not recall details, but it seems there was a foot log across the stream, and the water was several feet deep beneath it.

The foot log was given a twist so that it would turn under whoever started to cross it. Then the boys enticed the teacher to the stream, and then did something which caused him to start to apprehend them as they were on the opposite side. When the teacher started running across the footlog it turned and he was precipitated into the water.

If the boys were chastised with the hickory stick, they probably felt that it was worth it to "dunk" the teacher.

JUST HAVIN' FUN!

I talked to a number of the collectors at the Central Ohio Gun and Indian Relic Collectors Assn. meeting here Saturday and Sunday.

In nearly every instance they were agreed that buying, selling and trading guns and accessories is "a lot of fun".

"I never expect to make anything worthwhile, but gee! I certainly get a kick out of swappin' and buyin' and sellin' " one dealer, who never misses a meeting, said.

Some of the dealers really "clear up" on many of their transactions, but most of the hobbyists like to mingle with others who have the same hobby, and buy and sell or trade a little for the kick they get out of it, rather than for making any large profit.

Gun and Indian relic collecting are hobbies of a surprisingly large number of persons, both men and women, and every organization of this kind in Ohio has a large membership, with a lot of the hobbyists belonging to several of the groups.

THOSE NIGHTCAPS

Before homes generally were something like adequately heated, women and children generally wore nightcaps to keep their heads warm while sleeping in rooms where the temperature sometimes fell below the freezing mark.

In fact they became so accustomed to sleeping with nightcaps during the winter months that they usually donned them during the summer and wore them just the same as if it were winter.

However, the summer nightcaps were made from a lighter material than the winter variety, usually unbleached muslin being used for this purpose, although many of the winter head coverings also were made of the yellowish muslin.

Other nightcaps, for cold weather, were made of Canton flannel, a cotton goods with a pronounced nap on one side, or of other material heavier than the unbleached muslin.

Women found that the nightcaps, which were fashioned like the old time woolen hoods worn by women and tied under the chin with strings, or ribbons, kept their hair in good condition while asleep, and this was one reason they wore them all of the time.

In the days when open fireplaces and grates provided the chief heat, most of the bedrooms were without any heat, or inadequate heat at best, and nightcaps were as much a part of the night garb as the heavy nightgowns or robes worn by all members of a family.

Very few men wore the nightcaps. I guess they were considered hardly enough to withstand some cold about their heads. However at that time most men wore rather long hair and full beards, and did not need much head protection.

Then, again, many of the old timers had "nightcaps" that contained quite a bit of alcohol!

Helicopter Taxi Service to End

CLEVELAND (AP) — Helicopter Taxi Service, which has carried 17,000 passengers on short local flights from Lakefront Airport since 1954, will end here Feb. 1.

"It has been no secret that our helicopter passenger service has been conducted on a loss basis to gain experience," said Cleveland Air Taxi President Kenyon C. Bolton. "There is no reason to continue this phase of our development," he added.

Passenger service after Feb. 1 will be on a charter basis.

The helicopter taxi operated to 45 heliostops and industrial landing points in this area and made flights from Cleveland Hopkins airport to the Lakefront port.

Teachers Sponsor Filmed Version of 'Passion Play'

Scene from 'Passion Play'

The Washington City Teachers Assn. will sponsor the motion picture — "Oberammergau and the Passion Play" on Friday, April 12. It will be shown at the high school at 4:15 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Arthur Engle, chairman of the Teachers Assn. committee, said: "We have taken over this project with the hope of giving worthwhile entertainment to the public in a fund-raising effort for the Scholarship Fund."

The picture is non-denominational and has been acclaimed by both Protestants and Catholics.

The script of the world renowned "Oberammergau and the Passion Play" was brought to this country and filmed in English dialogue and in color. It has a musical background furnished by a 65-piece symphony orchestra and a chorus of 100 voices.

H. G. CARTER, publicity manager of the K. Gordon Murray studios in Miami, Florida, who is in charge of the production, said: "It is a reverent presentation of the story of the Savior from manhood to the ascension. We follow Him through the period of teaching, healing the sick, the lame, the blind and comforting the oppressed, to the Last Supper. Then follows the ordeals which lead to Calvary, the sorrowful burial, the resurrection and the ascension."

Emphasizing the purpose of the production, Carter said: "The film is presented so that it may reach countless hundreds who, otherwise, may not feel the inspiration of the Biblical word. It is at once an exceptional experience in religious education and two hours of impressive beauty unfolded in a natural setting of rare and picturesque loveliness."

Mr. Ted Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Shelton, 1142 Sunnymeade Dr., Anderson, Indiana, took Miss Imelda Marie McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCormick of Palo Alto, Calif., as his bride on November 24, 1956 at the St. Francis of Assisi Church in Palo Alto, with the Rev. The church altar was decked with arrangements of white and gold chrysanthemums forming the background for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of oyster white net under an overdress of white crystallette designed with a tucked bodice and a bouffant skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held by a pearl tiara. She carried an arrangement of white stephanotis and chrysanthemums, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Dara McCormick served as her sister's maid of honor, wearing a gown of autumn brown crystallette with a head-piece fashioned of brown feathers. She carried a bouquet of gold and brown chrysanthemums.

Two Papers are Given At Sorority Meeting

Mrs. Eugene Alkire was a charming hostess Monday evening when she entertained members of the Zeta Upsilon Chapter for their meeting.

The opening ritual was led by the president, Mrs. John Richards, and during the business session Mrs. Rodney Shelton, secretary, gave her report with Miss Martha Hughes giving the treasurer's report. Both were accepted as read.

Adequate Wiring layout

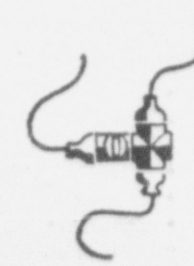

...and insure electrical
convenience in your home!

Why build an inconvenient house? The Adequate Wiring Bureau will lay out wiring plans on the blue prints of your new home in the planning stage, applying all the national Adequate Wiring standards: locating switches conveniently, placing receptacles and light outlets, designating which outlets the switches control; denoting size of service wires, number of circuits and kinds of circuits—whether lighting, general appliance or special appliance.

There is no charge of any kind for this service. Two free inspections of the new building are made. First, when rough wiring is in; second, final inspection of the finished wiring.

If the wiring job meets the national standards for safety, convenience and adequate service, an Adequate Wiring Certificate is awarded. Also, an Adequate Wiring sticker is placed on the meter panel board containing the contractor's name and a poster "This house meets Adequate Wiring Standards" is erected to proclaim the fact during the remainder of construction.

FREE Advice on Bringing Old Wiring Up-to-date

Modernizing the wiring of a house that was built years ago is not always a big job. Sometimes one additional circuit relieves danger of overload. Ted Shelton Takes Bride at November Wedding in California

MR. AND MRS. TED SHELTON

Mr. Ted Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Shelton, 1142 Sunnyside Dr., Anderson, Indiana, took Miss Imelda Marie McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCormick of Palo Alto, Calif., as his bride on November 24, 1956 at the St. Francis of Assisi Church in Palo Alto, with the Rev. Richard Howley officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The church altar was decked with arrangements of white and gold chrysanthemums forming the background for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of oyster white net under an overdress of white crystallette designed with a tucked bodice and a bouffant skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held by a pearl tiara. She carried an arrangement of white stephanotis and chrysanthemums, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Dara McCormick served as her sister's maid of honor, wearing a gown of autumn brown crystallette with a head-piece fashioned of brown feathers. She carried a bouquet of gold and brown chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaid was Mrs. Richard Howe, of Menlo Park, Calif., another sister of the bride. She wore a gown of gold crystallette with a gold headpiece. Her bouquet was of gold and brown chrysanthemums.

Mr. William McCormick Jr., brother of the bride, served as best man, and Mr. Brian J. McCormick another brother of the bride, was the usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McCormick chose a beige and brown taffeta dress with emerald accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Shelton, mother of the groom wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. Later the couple left for a wedding trip with the bride traveling in a black watch plaid suit with a black fur hat.

The couple is residing temporarily at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Anderson.

The bride graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School in Palo Alto, Calif., and was formerly employed at the Pacific Tel and Tel Telephone Co. there.

The bridegroom was a member of the 1951 graduating class of Washington High School in this city, and has just completed four years service in the United States Navy. He also attended Miami University in Oxford.

The Shelton family formerly resided in Washington C. H., and have a wide circle of friends in this city. While living here they owned and operated the Western Auto Associate Store, before moving to Anderson, Ind., two years ago.

Mrs. Eugene Alkire was a charming hostess Monday evening when she entertained members of the Zeta Upsilon Chapter for their meeting.

The opening ritual was led by the president, Mrs. John Richards, and during the business session Mrs. Rodney Shelton, secretary, gave her report with Miss Martha Hughes giving the treasurer's report. Both were accepted as read.

It was decided to make a contribution for Christmas Seals and the chapter will distribute plastic hearts for the Heart Fund Drive. An invitation from the Xi Beta Psi Chapter was accepted to attend an Interior Decorating Show at Lazarus in Columbus on Monday, February 18th. A request from Mrs. Elmer Haymaker to become a member at large was accepted by the chapter, and members also decided to order pecans for resale which will be the next project for the year.

For the evening program, two very interesting papers were given, the first by Mrs. Eugene Alkire entitled "Love's Miracle in Marriage." She used the quotation "Perfect marriage between a man and woman is a meeting of spirit, mind, heart and body." Mrs. Alkire also conducted a group discussion on the question "What can each partner contribute to marriage physically, mentally and spiritually?" and also gave some humorous quotations on marriage.

The second paper was given by Miss Martha Hughes entitled "Let's Talk on the Radio and Television." Miss Hughes read from the book "Public Speaking on the Radio," giving ideas on the best way to adapt the voice and vocabulary to please the audience and several do's and don'ts to remember before a microphone.

A tape recording was made during a group discussion on favorite radio announcers.

The meeting closed in ritualistic form and refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Lawyer.

The program following the dinner was in charge of Eddie McCoy, chairman. The minutes of the Jan. 23, 1956 meeting were read by the secretary, Barton Montgomery.

AS A MEMBER of the research committee of the state association, he said that they had secured research data through the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station on self-feeding versus hand-feeding of beef cattle. One year's experiment had shown relatively little difference.

He described the program of the National Beef Council which has been attempting to get a 10 cent per head check-off on all cattle sold through the markets in order to promote beef. This

He also mentioned the work of the Corn Belt Feeders Assn., being reorganized, and the American National Cattlemen's Assn.

SPEAKING specifically on beef production, he had a number of charts showing the relative efficiency of crops fed in relation to the number of pounds of beef produced per acre. More pounds of beef can be secured per acre from corn silage than any other way according to the results of the Experiment Station work. Warner suggested a ration of half corn and half silage.

A group of 45 cattle feeders and visitors attended the annual Commercial Cattle Feeders dinner Monday night at Anderson's Drive-in. This was the largest crowd that has ever assembled for the annual meeting.

The program following the dinner was in charge of Eddie McCoy, chairman. The minutes of the Jan. 23, 1956 meeting were read by the secretary, Barton Montgomery.

Robert Haigler, vice president of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn. and the director from Fayette County, spoke on the activities of the association during the past year and the events coming up in 1957.

AS A MEMBER of the research committee of the state association, he said that they had secured research data through the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station on self-feeding versus hand-feeding of beef cattle. One year's experiment had shown relatively little difference.

He described the program of the National Beef Council which has been attempting to get a 10 cent per head check-off on all cattle sold through the markets in order to promote beef. This program has run into serious difficulty with the Packers and Stockyard Act. He said that cattle men need to press for legislative action on this matter in order to have an opportunity to expand the promotional work on sales of beef.

He also mentioned the work of the Corn Belt Feeders Assn., being reorganized, and the American National Cattlemen's Assn.

James Warner, beef cattle specialist, at Ohio State University, reviewed the merchandising of beef, stating that in another 10-year period 90 per cent of all the beef marketed will be as canned, frozen or packaged.

SPEAKING specifically on beef production, he had a number of charts showing the relative efficiency of crops fed in relation to the number of pounds of beef produced per acre. More pounds of beef can be secured per acre from corn silage than any other way according to the results of the Experiment Station work. Warner suggested a ration of half corn and half silage.

The annual cattle feeders tour was set for Friday, March 22, and the following committee was appointed: Bill Mace and Ted Vincent as co-chairmen, Willard Perrill and Ray Creachbaum.

Officers elected for the year were: Eddie McCoy, president; Willard Perrill, vice president; Barton Montgomery, secretary and treasurer; Ray Creachbaum, director to the state association.

The annual convention of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn. was announced for Thursday, Jan. 31, at the Southern Hotel in Columbus. Robert Haigler will chair the afternoon meeting.

ATTENDING Monday night's meeting were: Ralph Penn, Barton Montgomery, Jim Warner, Edwin Lee Caron, Ed McClure, Wilbur Neff, Melvin Keiger, Bob Baughn, Wayne Forsythe, Delbert Beckman, Robert Haigler, Charles Haigler, Ted Vincent, Bill Mace, Eddie McCoy, Robert Zimmerman, Howard Jefferson, Vernon Gifford, John Gifford, Art Gifford, Ray Creachbaum, Bob Rowland, Dwight Minton, Bob Mace, Willard Perrill, Jim Perrill, Alfred Hagler, Dr. J. Crippled SCO To Map Its Future Wednesday

Principal John Trace, head Football Coach Fred Domenico and Faculty Manager Clyde Cramer of Washington C. H. High School will attend a special meeting of the South Central Ohio League at Greenfield Wednesday night when problems arising from the WHS withdrawal from the league are to be discussed.

The meeting was called by Paul Orr, Greenfield McClain High School's athletic director. He described it as an "emergency meeting" and said its purpose is to map out the league's future course.

The other schools in the league—Wilmington, Hillsboro and Circleville—were asked to send representatives.

Washington C. H. High School withdrew from the old SCO to join a new eight-school league, but will honor its commitments through the 1957-58 term.

Other schools in the new league are at London, Hilliards, Grove City, Westerville, Marysville, Gahanna and Groveport.

efforts during the last three or four years to expand the league had been unsuccessful.

WHILE the new eight-school league is now concerned right with football, Domenico said that it undoubtedly would become a four-sport (football, basketball, track and baseball) loop after the organization is completed.

Trace said he does not know just what role the WHS representatives will have in the SCO meeting at Greenfield, but assumed the other schools will want to know something of the background for the change.

The next regular meeting of the SCO is slated for Hillsboro March 13. This is being the regular spring meeting, Trace explained, the principal business will be the awarding of the basketball championship, selection of an All-SCO basketball squad and setting up of a spring sport schedule.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—They're still cheering down in Rockbridge (population: 350) of Hocking County. The high school basketball team won a game Friday night.

Coach Earl Murnahan's boys, after losing 45 straight regular season games—over 50, counting tournaments—strutted off the floor with a 55-45 win over Gibsonville, also in Hocking County. Referee Pat Bowes said "the Rockbridge fans acted as if the kids had just won the state championship."

Coshocton, with nine straight losses, also turned on its tormentors by nosing out Cambridge 61-59 in a Central Ohio League contest.

While all of that was going on, three of the Class A top 10 teams, including state champion Arcanum, went down to defeat. Arcanum tried to stall in the fourth quarter against Franklin-Monroe but surrendered its lead and was whipped 56-33 for the champs' third defeat in 15 attempts.

The Trojans, despite the loss, clung to the top spot in the weekly Associated Press poll. Plain City was halted 58-56 by Hilliards, ending a 10-game streak, and Crestline's 10-game stretch was snapped 71-63 by Loudonville's Red Birds. Both losers stayed in the top 10.

Middletown's Class AA titleholders turned back Lima 83-55 for their 12th win of the season, and their 37th over a two-year stretch. Dayton Stivers holds the state's long-win record with 46, set in 1929-1932 by Floyd Stahl's powerhouses. Middletown came close by running up 43 in the 1943-45 period before being stopped by Harry Strobel's Bellevue team in the final game of the state tourney.

The opposition is throwing unique zone defenses at top-ranked Middletown these days, hoping to halt big Jerry Lucas, the 6-9 junior. Lima "held" him to 29 points. Larry Siegfried of Shelby, embroiled in a red-hot scoring race with Lucas, also scored 29 in the 88-64 win over Upper Sandusky.

That moved Siegfried to 424 points for 11 games, an average of

Ohio State Clips Wisconsin 67-64

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Forward Frank Howard and center Larry Luston scored 43 points between them to lead Ohio State to a 67-64 Big Ten basketball victory over Wisconsin here Monday night.

Wisconsin, looking for an upset against the conference-leading Buckeyes, led the game until nine minutes remained.

It was the fifth straight Big Ten win for Ohio State and the sixth loss in a row for the Badgers.

38.5, while Lucas has 446 for 12 games, a 37.1 average.

Here is how sports editors rate Ohio's high school basketball teams this week. Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc voting basis and the won-lost records.

Ohioan Credits Supple Thumb For Accuracy

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Western Kentucky's Eric Back, currently the nation's most accurate foul shooter, is right handed. But the Middletown, Ohio high school product says a lot of his success is due to a supple, south-paw thumb.

The 6-foot guard, who has hit on 42 of 44 free throws this season, employs an unorthodox style, holding the ball overhead in both hands just above eye level. As he prepares to toss it, he released the fingers on the left hand, using only the thumb as a guide.

Back is .955 accurate. If he maintains that pace the last half of the season, he will break the record percentage of .922 set by Sam Urzetta of St. Bonaventure University, Olean, N. Y., in 1948.

And if he can keep that left thumb in form, Back might crack the national record for consecutive foul goals. That mark is 38 in a row, fashioned by Chet Forte of Columbia this season.

Twice this season, Back has hit 20 straight free throws. He is working on his second string of 20 now.

He'll have a chance to improve his standing Jan. 26 when Western, currently ranked 20th in the Associated Press poll, invades Chicago for a game with DePaul.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Mickey Mantle, picking up postseason honors at the same pace he belted homers last summer, headed West for most today with the $10,000 diamond-studded St. Rae Hickok belt his newest talking point in continuing contract discussions with the New York Yankees.

The majors' triple crown champ in home runs, batting average and runs batted in received the belt.

Hogan Award To Go to Blind Golfer

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—There were some smiles, some heart-tugs, when stocky Clint Russell quipped to his golfing companions: "Nuts, I took my eye off the ball."

They smiled, with down-deep affection, because Russell insists on spoofing a handicap which to many would make playing golf unthinkable.

Russell has been blind for 34 of his 60 years. He has never brooded about it, and never let it blunt his zest for the game.

For his courage in meeting the handicap head-on, and lightening the load of others with the same affliction, the retired creamery executive Friday will receive the annual Ben Hogan Award of the American Golf Writers Assn.

The award, to be presented in

Brooklyn Entry Wins Decision

NEW YORK (AP)—Angelo DeFendis of Brooklyn went 10 rounds for the first time Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena and won a unanimous decision over Jerry Luedee of New Haven.

"He's a kid who likes fighting," explained Steve Paris, his manager. "Some fellows don't look or

New York, is given annually to the golfer who overcomes a physical handicap and continues to distinguish himself.

Russell has been in that category ever since an auto tire he was repairing burst in his face. He lost his sight a year later, in 1923.

Before the accident Russell shot consistently in the low 80s and often in the high 70s. A few years later, unable to see the ball and wholly dependent on his caddy for direction and distance, he shot a remarkable 84.

Russell's scores usually range from the 90s to the low 100s.

Robin Roberts Takes Pay Slash

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Robin Roberts, ace Philadelphia Phillies pitcher, is looking forward to a "regular Roberts season" after taking his first pay cut since he has been in organized baseball.

Roberts Monday signed his 1957 contract which called for a reputed $5,000 slash in salary. He still will take home around $45,000 this year.

WHS Varsity, Alumni Set For Benefit Game Friday

The basketball game Friday night between the WHS Varsity and a team of former Lions has four primary objectives:

(1) Entertainment for the fans; (2) fun for the players on both teams; (3) keep the Lions in shape for their next game, a league fray with Circleville's Tigers here Feb. 1; and (4) to raise some money for the Athletic Assn. fund, which went $2,230 in the hole on last fall's football season.

If the Lions of the present think they are going to have a romp over the Lions of the past, they might get a surprise. This is a tip from Clyde Cramer, WHS faculty sports manager, who pointed out that the alumni squad will have some young men who sparkled on the courts not so many years ago that they have forgotten how to play or gone soft.

Already listed for the alumni team are Wayne VanMeter, Jack Rettig, Lyle Self, Russell (Rebel) Campbell, Roger Mickle, Dewey Foster, Claude Smith, Bobby Duntton, Bob Alkire and Sam Marting.

SEVERAL of these old grads left WHS with All-SCO honors, achieved through outstanding performances during their high school days.

The dip in receipts from the football games last fall — which approximated $3,000, Cramer said — was caused by a drop in attendance. The attendance slump was traced, at least in part, by Cramer to the Friday night store opening.

Lion Cubs Whip Leesburg Juniors

The Lion Cubs of Washington C. H. Junior High School trounced the Juniors of Fairfield High School at Leesburg, 44 to 23, Monday after school.

It was the seventh win in 10 games for the Cubs.

On the Cub team, with total points scored, were: Seaman 2, Wetson 2, Crouse 8, Miller 2, Sommers 2, Foster 5, Myers 1, Pete Evans 2, Baker 8, Pavey 3 and Sam Evans 9.

On the Fairfield team were: Campbell 8, Grandle 4, Priest 4, Duke 2, Perie 1 and Wright 4.

Tigers Closing Home Schedule

New Holland Tonight; Polio Benefit Friday

Jeffersonville's Tigers will be playing their last inter-school home game of the season tonight with the Bulldogs from New Holland.

However, the Tigers will make one more appearance on their home floor Friday night when they play the school faculty members for the benefit of the March of Dimes polio fund.

The Tigers will go into tonight's game with a record of 10 wins and 4 losses and the Bulldogs with one almost that good—7 wins and 5 losses.

There are three more games left on the Jeffersonville schedule, but they all will be played on their opponent's courts at Bloomingburg, Williamsport and Madison South.

Principal Harry Phillips said the Faculty - Varsity game definitely would not be a basketball burlesque and added "we have some young men on the faculty, young men who have played basketball and know the game."

THIS WILL BE the third polio benefit game between the Faculty and Varsity cage teams at Jeffersonville. Phillips said the others had netted between $40 and $60 and that it was hoped Friday night's game would top this.

The first game, he said, was of the circus variety, but last year it was serious business. The faculty is out to win this coming game, he declared.

On the faculty squad are Phillips, George Greer, Joe Rush, Frank Creamer, Don Morrow, Robert Hildreth and Walter Hurd.

Greer was chosen on the West Virginia all-state high school team, Creamer is a former coach at Madison Mills and Hildreth is the coach of the Jeffersonville basketballers.

Collector Robbed

PORTSMOUTH (P)—Bill Dorethy, an insurance collector for the Western Southern Life Insurance Co., was robbed of $300 Monday night by a gunman.

Tar Heel '5' Voted as Top Team in U. S.

NEW YORK (P)—Undefeated North Carolina, once merely the second best team in its state, today was No. 1 in the latest Associated Press poll, a happy situation which immediately set Tar Heel Coach Frank McGuire to worrying.

The Tar Heels (15-0) leaped ahead of Kansas, season-long poll leaders, after the Jayhawks dropped a 39-37 decision last week to Iowa State. It was the first Kansas loss after 12 victories.

McGuire said he was nappy about the selection, but "a little concerned too. It's quite a load for my boys to carry. The kids may be pressing from now on to maintain top ranking."

McGuire's Atlantic Coast Conference leaders, inactive during mid-term exams, will resume play Feb. 5. For the past few years, North Carolina has played basketball second fiddle to North Carolina State. State this year has slumped to the ACC second division.

Sportswriters voting in the poll gave North Carolina 79 of 120 first-place votes and 1,109 points. Kansas was left with 9 firsts and 928 points on the basis of 10 for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. Iowa State climbed from ninth to third on the basis of its win over Kansas, earning 8 firsts and 682 points.

Louisville moved into the fourth spot vacated by Kentucky, which dropped to fifth. Southern Methodist fell to sixth from third. UCLA, Seattle, Illinois and Bradley, in order, filled out the top 10.

The steel industry, companies report, has 657,600 employees in the United States.

How Texas Eastern helps put the bite in Nicholson files

A hard-biting Nicholson file has plenty of sharp teeth to sink into a job—because Texas Eastern helped put the heat on.

Texas Eastern transports natural gas via pipeline from the Southwest for Nicholson File Company's Providence, R. I., plant. Here it is used in forging, annealing, hardening and finishing—in every heat-treating process used in making files. Nicholson prefers natural gas because it is clean and doesn't have to be stored in the plant. Above all, gas heat can be closely regulated—a must in making a fine file—whether it's a coarse rasp or a delicate Silversmith's Riffler.

WHS Varsity, Alumni Set For Benefit Game Friday

The basketball game Friday night between the WHS Varsity and a team of former Lions has four primary objectives:

(1) Entertainment for the fans; (2) fun for the players on both teams; (3) keep the Lions in shape for their next game, a league fray with Circleville's Tigers here Feb. 1; and (4) to raise some money for the Athletic Assn. fund, which went $2,230 in the hole on last fall's football season.

If the Lions of the present think they are going to have a romp over the Lions of the past, they might get a surprise. This is a tip from Clyde Cramer, WHS faculty sports manager, who pointed out that the alumni squad will have some young men who sparkled on the courts not so many years ago that they have forgotten how to play or gone soft.

Already listed for the alumni team are Wayne VanMeter, Jack Rettig, Lyle Self, Russell (Rebel) Campbell, Roger Mickle, Deway Foster, Claude Smith, Bobby Dunton, Bob Alkire and Sam Marting.

SEVERAL of these old grads left WHS with All-SCO honors, achieved through outstanding performances during their high school days.

The dip in receipts from the football games last fall — which approximated $3,000, Cramer said — was caused by a drop in attendance. The attendance slump was traced, at least in part, by Cramer to the Friday night store opening.

Lion Cubs Whip Leesburg Juniors

The Lion Cubs of Washington C. H. Junior High School trounced the Juniors of Fairfield High School at Leesburg, 44 to 23, Monday after school.

It was the seventh win in 10 games for the Cubs.

On the Cub team, with total points scored, were: Seaman 2, Wetson 2, Crouse 3, Miller 2, Sommers 2, Foster 5, Myers 1, Pete Evans 2, Baker 8, Pavey 3 and Sam Evans 9.

On the Fairfield team were: Campbell 8, Grandle 4, Priest 4, Duke 2, Perie 1 and Wright 4.

Cramer said, after talking with some of the alumni, that the old grads had told him they were going into this game to win. He added that they had assured him that the few years old of school had not softened them too much, especially since there would be a benchful of replacements to give them breathers occasionally.

Horsemen's Banquet Planned for Feb. 18

The annual Horsemen's Banquet will be held Monday, Feb. 18, at the Country Club.

Harold (Babe) Maddux, serving as coordinator of the event, said that plans are still in the formation stage but that "we'll promise all lovers of fine horses a good time."

Originated here eight years ago, the Horsemen's Banquet usually attracts around 200 sportsmen. They meet for a social hour, sit down together for a specially planned dinner and linger for more horse talk after the meal.

Usually the program, if any, is short. Out-of-town guests are introduced, and movies of the Hambletonian and Brown Jug are shown on occasion.

All horsemen and lovers of the sport are invited to attend.

Buckeye Deadeye Pacing Big Ten

CHICAGO — Ohio State's Frank Howard took the scoring lead in the Big Ten all-games basketball race but it is questionable how long he'll hold it.

Howard has a total of 272 points in 13 games for a 20.9 average. Archie Dees of Indiana is second with 267 points. Dees, however, has his total in 11 games and carries a 24.2 average.

Another player with 13 games behind him, Joe Ruklick of Northwestern sneaked into third place with 226 points for a 17.3 average. George Bon Salle of Illinois, with 221 points in 11 games and a 20.0 average is fourth.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Tigers Closing Home Schedule

New Holland Tonight; Polio Benefit Friday

Jeffersonville's Tigers will be playing their last inter-school home game of the season tonight with the Bulldogs from New Holland.

However, the Tigers will make one more appearance on their home floor Friday night when they play the school faculty members for the benefit of the March of Dimes polio fund.

The Tigers will go into tonight's game with a record of 10 wins and 4 losses and the Bulldogs with one almost that good—7 wins and 5 losses.

There are three more games left on the Jeffersonville schedule, but they all will be played on their opponent's courts at Bloomingburg, Williamsport and Madison South.

Principal Harry Phillips said the Faculty - Varsity game definitely would not be a basketball burlesque and added "we have some young men on the faculty, young men who have played basketball and know the game."

THIS WILL BE the third polio benefit game between the Faculty and Varsity cage teams at Jeffersonville. Phillips said the others had netted between $40 and $60 and that it was hoped Friday night's game would top this.

The first game, he said, was of the circus variety, but last year it was serious business. The faculty is out to win this coming game, he declared.

On the faculty squad are Phillips, George Greer, Joe Rush, Frank Creamer, Don Morrow, Robert Hildreth and Walter Hurd.

Greer was chosen on the West Virginia all-state high school team. Creamer is a former coach at Madison Mills and Hildreth is the coach of the Jeffersonville basketballers.

Collector Robbed

PORTSMOUTH — Bill Dorethy, an insurance collector for the Western Southern Life Insurance Co., was robbed of $300 Monday night by a gunman.

The British government abolished the slave trade in its African colonies in 1807-11.

Gas-fired automatic furnaces progressively heat Nicholson file blanks of high-carbon steel to a precise 1450° F. in a pre-forging operation. Swindlers Nabbed In Texas Town

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Trial here is awaited for two persons Sheriff Tom Warren identified as "definitely members of the Williamson family," swindlers with a national reputation.
William Williamson, 19, and his grandmother, Mary Wilson, 78, were charged Saturday with stealing $300 from Otto Gray, 65.
Gray said the money was taken from his home while two women prayed for him. Police said Mrs. Wilson made a written statement saying William had dressed like a woman, taken the money and given it to her.
William denied it.

Coast Guard Ship Busy in Ice Jams

TOLEDO, Ohio—Ice jams have kept the Coast Guard cutter Tupelo busy near the Toledo Harbor light in Lake Erie and in the Detroit River.
Ice piled up northeast of the harbor light and trapped the Detroit-bound freighter Diamond Alkali. The Tupelo sailed out to rescue her Sunday, but the Canadian tug Atomic got there first and freed the freighter.

Civil Rights Bill Seen as Certainty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) says there are indications Congress will pass a modified civil rights program this session although he anticipates "a form of filibuster."
"I don't believe it (a filibuster) will be strong enough or there will be enough men participating in it to actually make it effective," he added.

People in the United States consume about 475 million tubes of toothpaste a year, an average of three per person.

Swindlers Nabbed In Texas Town

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Trial here is awaited for two persons Sheriff Tom Warren identified as "definitely members of the Williamson family," swindlers with a national reputation.

William Williamson, 39, and his grandmother, Mary Wilson, 78, were charged Saturday with stealing $300 from Otto Gray, 65.

Gray said the money was taken from his home while two women prayed for him. Police said Mrs. Wilson made a written statement saying William had dressed like a woman, taken the money and given it to her.

William denied it.

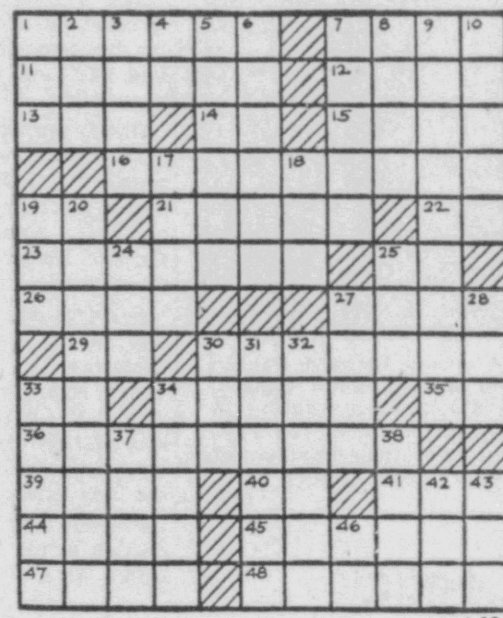

Coast Guard Ship Busy in Ice Jams

TOLEDO (AP)—Ice jams have kept the Coast Guard cutter Tupelo busy near the Toledo Harbor light in Lake Erie and in the Detroit River.

Ice piled up northeast of the harbor light and trapped the Detroit-bound freighter Diamond Alkali. The Tupelo sailed out to rescue her Sunday, but the Canadian tug Atomic got there first and freed the freighter.

Civil Rights Bill Seen as Certainty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) says there are indications Congress will pass a modified civil rights program this session although he anticipates "a form of a filibuster."

"I don't believe it (a filibuster) will be strong enough or there will be enough men participating in it to actually make it effective," he added.

People in the United States consume about 475 million tubes of toothpaste a year, an average of three per person.

3 Drunk Drivers Fined in Court

All Draw $200
Fines, Jail Raps

Two men and a woman who pleaded guilty to driving while drunk were fined $200 each, sentenced to jail and suspended from driving for a year when they were arraigned in Municipal Court here. All three pleaded guilty.

Two others, arrested for plain drunkenness, were fined, but the fines were suspended, leaving only the costs to be paid, on condition that they leave Washington, C. H.

Curtis Knapp, 23, of near Frankfort, was charged with driving while intoxicated after he was arrested on S. Fayette St. Sunday. Three days of his 10-day jail sentence were suspended.

John A. Craig, 30, Waynesville, was charged with driving while intoxicated on Clinton Ave. about 9 p. m. Saturday. Three days of his 10-day sentence were suspended.

Lorenda J. Henderson, 27, of 511 E. Temple St., was charged with the same offense after she had run off the road on Route 70 and two miles north of Greenfield early Sunday. Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays said her former husband, Alfred C. Henderson Jr., was with her at the time. Three days of her 10-day jail sentence were suspended.

AN 84-YEAR-OLD Mount Sterling man was fined $50 and costs when he faced the court for the tenth time in three years on a charge of drunkenness. Judge Max G. Dice suspended the fine, however, on condition that he stay out of Washington C. H.

A 53-year-old Washington C. H. man arrested for drunkenness was fined $5 and costs, but the fine was suspended on condition that he enter the Veterans Hospital in Dayton.

Police Powers

had no choice but to stand inactive while a group of strike sympathizers stoned several exchanges of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. in the Portsmouth area. Shaw commented:

"We are losing a lot of potential of a fine, well-trained organization in some parts of the state local law enforcement is breaking down."

He obviously referred to the situation in the Portsmouth area. But he admitted he could not say whether he has administration backing.

Another bill introduced Monday night would require one year of driver education in Ohio's 1,111 high schools as a requirement for graduation.

Such courses now are offered in 712 high schools, but are not required.

It was introduced by Rep. Kenneth F. Berry (R-Coshocton) and got immediate informal endorsement from one state highway patrol official with the comment:

"In this day and age, you either know how to drive right or you've had it."

BERRY'S BILL would add the driver education graduation requirement to the "Reading, 'Rithmetic" bill passed by the 1955 Legislature. Berry proposes that every high school graduate after Sept. 1, 1958, have at least one full year's training in auto driving.

It appeared this may be the final month for Ohio's Highway Construction Council. A bill abolishing the council, with the blessing of the O'Neill administration, probably will be passed by the Ohio House by the time that body adjourns Wednesday.

Senate approval for the emergency bill, which would be effective as soon as O'Neill signs it, is likely about a week hence.

Senate majority leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), said he was told the construction council's cost has been about $35,000 a year for the last four years. It was created by a Republican Legislature as an additional check on a huge highway spending program. Gov. O'Neill has said the council has now served its usefulness.

Other bills introduced Monday night would:

Establish a 40-hour week for state employees.

Permit confiscation of auto licenses for six months for driving after one's driver's license had been suspended.

Extend Ohio voting by three hours on election day. The new hours would be 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. Present hours are 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

Courts

COURT SUIT SETTLED

A suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Joseph Phillips seeking $10,000 damages for loss of business and $2,555 for loss of salary and earnings from Angelina Osborne, and her cross-petition asking $6,140.20 for expenses for labor and materials was settled out of court and dismissed "with prejudice" Monday afternoon by Judge John P. Case.

Dismissal with prejudice, Judge Case explained, means that it cannot be brought again, that the dismissal is final.

Phillips' suit and Mrs. Osborne's cross petition were the outgrowth of an arrangement effected Sept. 10, 1954, to move his used (and stored) bowling alley and equipment here from Seaman and install them in a leased room on Main St.

The case came to trial before Judge Case Monday morning but during the noon recess, he suggested that the attorneys and parties to the suit get together and work out a settlement.

The suggestion was taken and the settlement worked out by 2 o'clock. Judge Case then dismissed the suit.

No record of the settlement was made on the court records.

News Briefs

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—A gaily decorated pavilion made of coconut palm leaves caught fire Monday night during a wedding feast on a tea plantation. Eighteen persons were burned to death. The 17-year-old bride was among a dozen persons burned critically.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—another shipload of Jews has left Egypt in search of new homes. The Egyptian ship Misr sailed Monday for Greece and Italy with more than 900 Jews aboard. It could not be determined how many were forced to leave and how many went voluntarily.

TAIPEI (AP)—Nine more persons have died of injuries from a shell explosion at an artillery range Sunday in central Formosa. Twenty-seven persons were killed outright. Most of the dead were civilians collecting shell fragments.

Cincy Car Firm Appeals Penalty
CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati auto firm has appealed to Hamilton County common pleas court from revocation of its dealer's license, claiming the state's licensing law is unconstitutional.

The Ohio Motor Vehicle Dealer's and Salesmen's Licensing Board revoked the license of Sycamore Motors several weeks ago on the grounds it violated the board's rule requiring auto buyers be given a copy of the sales order.

Sycamore's appeal declared that laws creating the board are unconstitutional because there is "no connection" between selling automobiles and "the public health, safety and morals" which can be protected constitutionally by the state.

Church Youth Week To Start Sunday
COLUMBUS—Hundreds of churches and communities across Ohio will observe Youth Week, Jan. 27 to Feb. 3, when the place of young people in religious and civic life is stressed.

The Youth Week theme is "Consider your Call." Helping to emphasize that all vocations should be Christian, it also lifts up the place of church-related vocations in the life of young people and encourages them to select positions in the ministry, religious education and missionary work as lifetime vocations. Sunday, Jan. 27, is known as "Denominational Sunday" of Youth Week.

Hospital Trustees OK By-Law Changes, Preview '56 Report

Two changes in constitution and by-laws of Fayette County Memorial Hospital, along with consideration of the December report of operations and a preview of what the institution's annual report will show, were the principal matters to come before the monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the hospital Monday night.

A general estimate of the 1956 business of the hospital as compared with the past years of 1955 and 1954, although the annual report was not entirely completed in detail, showed definite and substantial gains in business in nearly every department.

The monthly report for December recorded 267 admissions of patients, 71 new born infants and 1866 days of service for patients. The high census of patients on any one day was 79, the lowest day 34.

SURGICAL operations for the month were reported as 57 major and 50 minor. The laboratory reported 2105 examinations and there were 205 X-ray films taken.

The hospital laundry turned out 30,463 pounds of work and the outpatients for the month, who required no bed or room, were 302.

THE 1956 YEARLY report preview indicated 3,334 adult admissions and 705 newborn infants, a total of 23,118 days of service for all patients except out-patients. This was an increase over 1955 in days of service for all patients including new born infants of 775 days and 3057 over 1954.

On the financial side the hospital's income, not considering depreciation, above expense, was slightly over $2,200.

The daily average of patients was higher than 1955 by 2 and 1954 by 9. The number of major surgical operations increased by 113 over 1955 and 209 over 1954. The only department to show a slight drop in 1956 over 1955 was in medical admissions.

MEALS SERVED in the hospital totaled 92,558 in 1956, an increase over the previous year of 5,485 and 11,762 the year 1954.

THE LABORATORY examinations in 1956 numbered 27,708, an increase of 2,218 over the year before and 5,774 in 1954; the 8,770 X-ray films made was 848 above 1955 and 2,823 more than in 1954.

The recommended changes in constitution voted unanimously by the trustees would set the third Monday of each month, instead of the second Monday, as the time for the regular monthly board meeting; and change the annual meeting date of the board, when reorganization takes place, to the third Monday in February instead of the second.

The board also passed a resolution asking the Fayette County Board of Commissioners, which has an over-all financial responsibility for the hospital as a county institution, to join the trustees in a meeting every third month so that the commissioners may become fully acquainted with the hospital's problems of operation and finances.

It was agreed also that when the hospital's county advisory board is named, the president of the board of commissioners, will be asked to serve on this group.

Hospital Receives Legacy

During the monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of Fayette Memorial Hospital Monday evening Miss Christine Evans, administrator, reported to the board the various donors and contributions received by the hospital during the year 1956, amounting to a total of $21,258.19.

3 Drunk Drivers Fined in Court

All Draw $200
Fines, Jail Raps

Two men and a woman who pleaded guilty to driving while drunk were fined $200 each, sentenced to jail and suspended from driving for a year when they were arraigned in Municipal Court here. All three pleaded guilty.

Two others, arrested for plain drunkenness, were fined, but the fines were suspended, leaving only the costs to be paid, on condition that they leave Washington C. H.

Curtis Knapp, 23, of near Frankfort, was charged with driving while intoxicated after he was arrested on S. Fayette St. Sunday. Three days of his 10-day jail sentence were suspended.

John A. Craig, 30, of Waynesville, was charged with driving while intoxicated on Clinton Ave. about 9 p. m. Saturday. Three days of his 10-day sentence were suspended.

Lorenda J. Henderson, 27, of 511 E. Temple St., was charged with the same offense after she had run off the road on Route 70 and two miles north of Greenfield early Sunday. Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays said her former husband, Alfred C. Henderson Jr., was with her at the time. Three days of her 10-day jail sentence were suspended.

AN 84-YEAR-OLD Mount Sterling man was fined $50 and costs when he faced the court for the tenth time in three years on a charge of drunkenness. Judge Max G. Dice suspended the fine, however, on condition that he stay out of Washington C. H.

A 53-year-old Washington C. H. man arrested for drunkenness was fined $5 and costs, but the fine was suspended on condition that he enter the Veterans Hospital in Dayton.

Police Powers

had no choice but to stand inactive while a group of strike sympathizers stoned several exchanges of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. in the Portsmouth area. Shaw commented:

"We are losing a lot of potential of a fine, well-trained organization when in some parts of the state local law enforcement is breaking down."

He obviously referred to the situation in the Portsmouth area. But he admitted he could not say whether he has administration backing.

Another bill introduced Monday night would require one year of driver education in Ohio's 1,111 high schools as a requirement for graduation.

Such courses now are offered in 712 high schools, but are not required.

It was introduced by Rep. Kenneth F. Berry (R-Coshocton) and got immediate informal endorsement from one state highway patrol official with the comment:

"In this day and age, you either know how to drive right or you've had it."

BERRY'S BILL would add the driver education graduation requirement to the "Reading, 'Rithmetic" and "Rithmetic" bill passed by the 1955 Legislature. Berry proposes that every high school graduate after Sept. 1, 1958, have at least one full year's training in auto driving.

It appeared this may be the final month for Ohio's Highway Construction Council. A bill abolishing the council, with the blessing of the O'Neill administration, probably will be passed by the Ohio House by the time that body adjourns Wednesday.

Senate approval for the emergency bill, which would be effective as soon as O'Neill signs it, is likely about a week hence.

Senate majority leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), said he was told the construction council's cost has been about $35,000 a year for the last four years. It was created by a Republican Legislature as an additional check on a huge highway spending program. Gov. O'Neill has said the council has now served its usefulness.

Other bills introduced Monday night would:

Establish a 40-hour week for state employees.

Permit confiscation of auto licenses for six months for driving after one's driver's license had been suspended.

Extend Ohio voting by three hours on election day. The new hours would be 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. Present hours are 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

Courts

COURT SUIT SETTLED

A suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Joseph Phillips seeking $10,000 damages for loss of business and $2,555 for loss of salary and earnings from Angeline Osborne, and her cross-petition asking $6,140.20 for expenses for labor and materials was settled out of court and dismissed "with prejudice" Monday afternoon by Judge John P. Case.

Dismissal with prejudice, Judge Case explained, means that it cannot be brought again, that the dismissal is final.

Phillips' suit and Mrs. Osborne's cross petition were the outgrowth of an arrangement effected Sept. 10, 1954, to move his used (and stored) bowling alley and equipment here from Seaman and install them in a leased room on Main St.

The case came to trial before Judge Case Monday morning but during the noon recess, he suggested that the attorneys and parties to the suit get together and work out a settlement.

The suggestion was taken and the settlement worked out by 2 o'clock. Judge Case then dismissed the suit.

No record of the settlement was made on the court records.

Cincy Car Firm Appeals Penalty

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati auto firm has appealed to Hamilton County common pleas court from revocation of its dealer's license, claiming the state's licensing law is unconstitutional.

The Ohio Motor Vehicle Dealer's and Salesmen's Licensing Board revoked the license of Sycamore Motors several weeks ago on the grounds it violated the board's rule requiring auto buyers be given a copy of the sales order.

Sycamore's appeal declared that laws creating the board are unconstitutional because there is "no connection" between selling automobiles and "the public health, safety and morals" which can be protected constitutionally by the state.

The board also passed a resolution asking the Fayette County Board of Commissioners, which has an over-all financial responsibility for the hospital as a county institution, to join the trustees in a meeting every third month so that the commissioners may become fully acquainted with the hospital's problems of operation and finances.

It was agreed also that when the hospital's county advisory board is named, the president of the board of commissioners, will be asked to serve on this group.

Hospital Trustees OK By-Law Changes, Preview '56 Report

Two changes in constitution and by-laws of Fayette County Memorial Hospital, along with consideration of the December report of operations and a preview of what the institution's annual report will show, were the principal matters to come before the monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the hospital Monday night.

A general estimate of the 1956 business of the hospital as compared with the past years of 1955 and 1954, although the annual report was not entirely completed in detail, showed definite and substantial gains in business in nearly every department.

The monthly report for December recorded 267 admissions of patients, 71 new born infants and 1866 days of service for patients. The high census of patients on any one day was 79, the lowest day 34.

SURGICAL operations for the month were reported as 57 major and 50 minor. The laboratory reported 2105 examinations and there were 205 X-ray films taken.

The hospital laundry turned out 30,463 pounds of work and the outpatients for the month, who required no bed or room, were 302.

THE 1956 YEARLY report preview indicated 3,334 adult admissions and 705 newborn infants, a total of 23,118 days of service for all patients except outpatients. This was an increase over 1955 in days of service for all patients including new born infants of 775 days and 3057 over 1954.

On the financial side the hospital's income, not considering depreciation, above expense, was slightly over $2,200.

The daily average of patients was higher than 1955 by 2 and 1954 by 9. The number of major surgical operations increased by 113 over 1955 and 209 over 1954. The only department to show a slight drop in 1956 over 1955 was in medical admissions.

MEALS SERVED in the hospital totalled 92,558 in 1956, an increase over the previous year of 5,485 and 11,762 the year 1954.

THE LABORATORY examinations in 1956 numbered 27,708, an increase of 2,218 over the year before and 5,774 in 1954; the 8,770 X-ray films made was 848 above 1955 and 2,823 more than in 1954.

The recommended changes in constitution voted unanimously by the trustees would set the third Monday of each month, instead of the second Monday, as the time for the regular monthly board meeting; and change the annual meeting date of the board, when reorganization takes place, to the third Monday in February instead of the second.

The board also passed a resolution asking the Fayette County Board of Commissioners, which has an over-all financial responsibility for the hospital as a county institution, to join the trustees in a meeting every third month so that the commissioners may become fully acquainted with the hospital's problems of operation and finances.
